Anita/Melissa – I'm going to forward three emails that Amy Bamber (from MT) sent me. They're a little hard to follow, but I think a lot of the "misuse" happened on the Crow Reservation. I put misuse in quotations because in the last email the incidents are referred to as "hearsay" (well, I guess other than the Crow Reservation situation since application there is prohibited). One thing I'll point out is that in the emails there is a tone of bias against anticoagulants from both Craig Knowles (conducts PD surveys, reporting the misuse) and Amy. A bit of history - Amy was not happy with us when we originally registered Rozol. MT never issued an SLN for Rozol (Liphatech tried...). But their state laws require registration of any product that has an EPA Section 3 registration. That's just my take on things.....I've always had a good relationship with Amy. Anyway, let me know if you want me to follow up on anything. I'm sure Amy will let us know if she gets more details or if she hears of other incidents.

Btw Melissa...the web links you provided was what Amy needed. Thanks again for that.

This is it, thank you. Apparently our state fish and game contracted with someone to do prairie dog surveys, a lot of it on private lands. The contractor is reporting lots of misuse of rozol pd bait-- specifically out of season use, broadcast use, and use on the crow reservation. He is struggling with reporting it to us because of the landowner relationships necessary for him to conduct his work. I'm trying to work with them to get stuff reported so we can investigate, but it's difficult. Just so you know...

Hi John,

There used to be a very handy epa webpage on rozol, had the biops and stuff on the right hand side....I can't find it now. Do you know where it is or if its gone?

Thanks, Amy
